

INTERNATIONAL NEUROPATHIC CARE SOCIETY

Coming Together to Transform Care

2023 ANNUAL MEETING
SPONSOR & EXHIBITOR PROSPECTUS

September 12-15, 2023

Minneapolis, Minnesota

Welcome From Our President

Dear Potential Sponsor:

If reaching a broad array of healthcare providers caring for people with neurologic illness is important to you, we need to connect. If it could be beneficial for your organization to have access to worldwide thought leaders on advancing models of care for people with neurologic illness, particularly those with advanced disease, under-recognized symptoms, or difficult to manage symptoms, let's talk. And if being associated with an organization that invites all significant stakeholders to the table as partners in advancing patient- and family-centered care aligns with your institutional values, I encourage you to continue reading. Because the new and rapidly growing International Neuropalliative Care Society (INPCS) is all these things and more, and we want to partner with you to advance both of our organizations.

INPCS is an association of neurologists, palliative medicine providers, geriatricians, nurses, social workers, and other clinicians, as well as patients and their families and caregivers, dedicated to improving the quality of life of persons and families affected by neurologic illness. Our society was created because we believe that to effectively advocate for better care, we needed to create a space where all people affected, and all people with power to foster change, could come together to share ideas. This includes professionals from industry—including hospitals, insurance, pharmaceuticals and home care—who have important insights and skills that can help us achieve our ultimate goals of improving care.

Palliative care is a patient- and family-centered approach to addressing the multiple dimensions of suffering people face from the time of diagnosis onwards. Although palliative care is traditionally associated with cancer and hospice, members of our society have demonstrated in research studies and clinical practice that palliative care improves the lives of people living with neurologic illness throughout their illnesses. We believe that palliative care's focus on reducing suffering is desperately needed in the world of neurology. And we also believe that you have a role to play in advancing that mission.

Our 3rd Annual Meeting, taking place in Minneapolis, Minnesota, September 12-15, 2023, has the theme of "Coming Together to Improve Care." We want to work with you to achieve that goal. Sponsors of our conference will have the ability to interact with attendees through sponsorship opportunities and in-conference networking and messaging, and have advertising opportunities throughout the conference, including the INPCS Annual Meeting website, sponsored sessions, and other conference materials. We're inviting you to become part of our community, not just to sell your products and promote your organization, but to work with us to advance the cause of improving the quality of life for people affected by neurologic illness.

This Sponsorship Prospectus offers proposed sponsorship packages and pricing, but it can also serve as a starting point for a conversation about how we can best meet your needs. We don't believe in a one-size-fits-all approach when it comes to our patients, and we certainly don't when it comes to working with others to advance the cause of neuropalliative care.

Making an investment in improving quality of life for people affected by neurologic illness is always a great choice. Let's work together and make that investment pay off for everyone!

Warm Regards,

Benzi Kluger, MD, MS
President, INPCS

What do you want to get out of the INPCS Annual Meeting? How many delegates do you want to stop by your table? How many leads do you hope to generate? Determine what your ROI is and focus on getting that. If INPCS can assist you in doing so, please let us know!

GET OUT FROM BEHIND YOUR TABLE

Exhibitors often sit behind their tables while attendees stand, looking down at them. Get up, make eye contact, and engage! Remember to stay off your phone. There will be time after exhibit hours to follow up on voicemail and email. INPCS encourages all sponsors to attend the educational sessions and bring their scientists to the INPCS Annual Meeting. Although we request that specific promotion of your product(s) be limited to your exhibit space, we also encourage you to become involved in our community of advancing better care for people affected by neurologic illness. Get involved with our program, discussions, and the multiple networking opportunities INPCS offers.
