

Robert G. Holloway, M.D., M.P.H.

Edward A. and Alma Vollertsen Rykenboer Chair in Neurology
Department of Neurology

Department of Neurology

Biography

Robert G. Holloway Jr., MD, MPH, is Professor and Edward A. and Alma Vollertsen Rykenboer Chair of the Department of Neurology at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry. He received his undergraduate (1985) and medical degrees from the University of Connecticut (1989), and his neurology (1993) and health services research training (MPH, 1996) at the University of Rochester. He has been on the faculty since 1993 and became Chair in 2013.

Dr. Holloway is boarded in both Neurology and Palliative Medicine. His research interests are broad and include experimental therapeutics and outcomes research covering many areas of neurology. He is the PI on several NIH awards that support clinical trial research and career development. He has authored over 170 manuscripts, reviews, and editorials, and is co-editor of three books: Case Studies in Neuroscience, Primer on Palliative Care and Neuropalliative Care. He has been the recipient of numerous awards including the C. Miller Fisher Neuroscience Visionary Award, American Stroke Association; Dr. Robert Joynt Kindness Award; Junior Faculty Mentoring Award; Alpha Omega Alpha Faculty Inductee; Nominee, AAMC Humanism Award, and the Harry L. Segal Prize for Excellence in Third Year Teaching.

Education & Training

1996 | MPH | University Rochester School Med/Dent | Community Medicine

1989 | MD | University Connecticut School Medicine | Medicine

1985 | BS | University of Connecticut | Biology

1989 - 1990 | Internship in Internal Medicine at University of Connecticut Health Center

1990 - 1993 | Residency in Neurology at University of Rochester School Med/Dentistry

Research

Dr. Holloway's major research interests are in clinical trials and outcomes research, as well as methods for improving quality and safety of neurological care.